The Lore Of BigTrout

I started trading years ago dabbling in BSC Coins before getting my ass rug pulled by the Elongate & SafeMoon team. It created a narrative in my head that the majority of these Memecoins are for "Get rich quick" schemes and to make others rich. I did not like the predatory nature of them.

For years, I just held spot assets like BTC, ETH etc. And then I became a Perps & Options trader.

I met many MMs, Whales in both the Equities & Crypto Market. I got very good at trading fast, and called a lot of wild moves in the space. Was very good at calling market crashes/corrections and spotting volatility beforehand. Infact, I got popular for calling the March 2025 tariff crash, October Crypto Crash & now the December-February 2026 Crash/Drop. Big Trout Mode became a movement in the space, and so on.

So I guess with the knowledge & data I provided in the space which was labeled as "alpha", many people started to come to me.

Now I am not a rich, large size trader. I trade with a few 1-10ks here and there. I am just a regular, normal guy with a lot of connections & I guess some brainpower lmao.

$BigTrout was launched by a random DEV, who assigned creator fees to my public wallet. From there on, I took matters into my own hands to buyback the token, hold supply, invest in LP, giveaway to the community and backbone the project. So I went from being anti-meme, to realizing I could do something meaningful, safe, honest & giveback to smaller retail traders & the community.

I've streamed, done spaces, as transparent as I could be for weeks/days on end. Very interactive with everyone. Hoping to do something right for people, unlike most bundled KOL/Rugs/Scams in the space.

It's time to be different and change that. Do things the right way. Let retail be confident, safe and comfortable.

Road Map

1. As of 02 FEB /16/2026, $BigTrout has been listed on many CEXs & Web3 platforms.

We plan to continue doing these listings in a FAIR, ETHICAL manner.

We will NOT participate in predatory OTC deals, where exchanges / platforms may dump our tokens to market & hurt holders, token price. This is a very common thing in the space. Many alts/meme projects have done this, where the team gets paid a fixed amount, sends supply & then the broker on the other side dumps to market. It's a complete liquidity drain.

If you want to list $BigTrout, you MUST play fair. I will make you sign clauses, deals & legal implications to prevent holders from being rinsed out. This is a ethical project, this is for the community. This is NOT a project you may take advantage of in disorderly misconduct.

Exchanges may list $BigTrout for free, buy from market, or reach out to me to make a FAIR, realistic deal that isn't a d*ck measuring contest. All our current exchange listings were done for FREE or extremely low cost in USDC to provide MM liquidity. I will work with you, but I will not let the people supporting this project come under a deal that may harm them. I am very transparent and absolutely assertive that this will be done in a meaningful, proper, honest, transparent matter.

With that being said, I am consistently in discussions with platforms & entities on growing the project the right way. Every single day, it's a phone call, DM, email, you name it.

As always, reach out via TG / X to get in contact.

https://bigtrout.fun/ (near bottom of main page) for all current listings.

2. With me being the assigned creator fee receiver, I will be continuing to contribute all the funds into the project. LP management, DCA tokens to hold for OTC / my holdings to increase, raise the project price floor & create stability for holders. As price pulls back, I buy in with USDC/SOL & raise the floor. Overtime, this holding increases and is added to LP via Meteora, holding as treasury, or given to MM for liquidity to provide CEX stability. At times, I may giveaway USDC to volunteers, as contests/giveaways for holders. $BigTrout will NEVER be sold by me.

By looping these creator fees thru LP and DLMM, you basically go in an infinite increasing loop to raise capital.* Using the $BigTrout token deposits into Meteora, you can easily convert to USDC or SOL without impacting price, and then continuously buyback supply. Then you get creator fees as well which come with extra volume thru PumpFun. Plus, you may deposit via Wasabi or Meteora and gain yield on these tokens you plan to hold long term.

THE TECH IS COOL!

TLDR: All the buybacks & creator fees go back into the project.

Going forward, we will start contributing the USDC & SOL into marketing, promotions & further $BigTrout expansion.

At some point, we may dabble into the universe of charitable donations, real world items like merchandise, or hosting community sponsored events. This is subject to change, flexibility, & overall just an idea to be voted on in future time as we grow. I believe all $BigTrout holders deserve a vote on the direction they wish to go in, a DAO vote may be possible in future time.

3. Animation / Art will be coming. We plan to have a promotional animation before the end of March to increase community sentiment, happiness & it helps get the name out there.

4. Marketing & listing agents are consistently working in the background. (This was pretty much stated in section 1.) We will continue working, promoting, grinding our hardest to support the backbone of the token. We will be hiring promotional teams & marketers in the near future.

5. As capital grows, we may start doing more token locks & burns. There is no fixed rate at what we are forced to do so. But, I plan to buy up a pretty hefty amount of supply.

This supply will NEVER be sold to market. By buying this supply, burning tokens removes from circulation which cannot be bought back. This is to help raise confidence in holders.

6. There will be NO Airdrop. Airdrops dilute token holders.

This was discussed internally for sometime. It is not going to happen.

Why? When a team airdrops tokens, it goes out to those who meet criteria, or a fixed amount to all holders.. This doesn't work. The majority of the time, airdrops are sold off & sold to market which impacts holders & token price overtime.

Also, let's say a larger token holder got more than a smaller holder.. Well then they can just manipulate and control price more.

I do not think it is beneficial or ethical to do so. $BigTrout will NEVER have an airdrop. Do not click any links on social media, they are scammers.

If there is a giveaway, it will be done VIA Stablecoin such as USDC.

7. I will do my best to backbone the project, until we go hero or zero. In the bear market equities and crypto are going into, the best thing I can do is support the holders who support me & my trading journey. I provide alpha & 1-1 trading sessions all the time. The cool memecoin community we have will be loved & supported as best as I can.

Let's let our voices be heard, let's make sure people understand $BigTrout is safe for everyone, all nations, ethnicities, all that support the project.

If you provide beneficial growth to us, I will personally support the volunteers* with USDC.
